for Victims of Human Rights Violations

A Place of Rest and New Beginnings

About Us

Wchan Organization for Victims of Human Rights Violations is a Kurdish - Iraqi independent, non-governmental (NGO), and nonprofit organization. We provide rehabilitation services for survivors of human rights violations. We participate in advocacy efforts to oppose all human rights abuses related to torture, genocide, war, and gender-based violence.

Wchan provides two core services:

First: Mental Health, Physical Therapy and Social Support:

1. Mental Health:

- Individual, family and group counseling and psychotherapy
- Psychiatric services through assessment and medication if needed

2. Trauma – focused physical therapy:

Individual and group treatment
Supports clients to move beyond pain or other bodily symptoms so as to function in daily life

3. Social and case management Services

4. Referrals to:

- Specialized medical services
- Legal services

Second: Trauma-Informed Trainings,

Internships, and Clinical Supervision

for the following:

- Governmental and non-governmental organizations
- Psychologists, social workers, physicians nurses, medical staff, teachers, shelter and staff of reformatories.
- University students from clinical psychology programs

Access to Wchan services

- Receiving a referral from professionals and/or organizations
- Visiting or calling our center
- Meeting our staff via the mobile and outreach teams.

Safe and Supportive

Our staff work alongside survivors to rebuild their lives after trauma by providing comprehensive services in a safe and supportive environment.

Trauma Rehabilitation and Training Center (TRTC)

TRTC is one of the Wchan's locations and the central coordinator of all Wchan activities. The TRTC opened its doors in 2008 in Sulaimaniyah to provide rehabilitation and support for survivors of traumatic events or other human rights abuses including torture war, genocide and violence
